

Aitiip is an Innovation and Technology Center whose purpose is to "Promote business, cultural and technological development within the industrial sector". For this reason, we intend to be an example and perform environmental management as a core important element in our daily business.

In order to achieve our environmental commitments, the company defines the following basic principles, which constitute the foundations of its environmental policy:

- To maintain its Environmental Management System in accordance with ISO 14001, updating the Management Manual and the remaining documents that make up this system, continuously improving its effectiveness.
- To identify and evaluate environmental legislation applicable to different activities of Aitiip as well as any requirements that the organization subscribes in relation to its environmental aspects. Periodically review the official publications that may be applicable in order to take into account the standards and the legislative tendency in the planning of actions that may have a significant environmental impact.
- To promote internal environmental communication with the workers of the company in order to actively involve them in the maintenance and improvement of the Environmental Management System.
- To promote environmental protection awareness, including pollution prevention and other commitments subscribed by Aitiip, by carrying out training actions so that all the staff of the organization carry out good environmental practices in their day to day.
- To use the resources rationally and minimize environmental impacts, waste generation, etc., through the application of continuous improvement programs and the establishment of environmental objectives and goals, developing their activities in a manner that respects the environment.
- To promote among its suppliers and contractors the implementation of environmental policies based on principles of pollution prevention, preservation of the environment and compliance with basic environmental legal requirements.
- To encourage external environmental communication by promoting constructive dialogue with authorities and stakeholders.
- To continuously improve the effectiveness of the environmental management system through the application of the improvement tools established by the reference standard.

The collaboration and participation of all Aitiip personnel is essential for the fulfillment of this policy since the protection of the Environment is everyone's business.
